Week Commencing 12 September

"My name is Harriet Manners, and I am a geek."

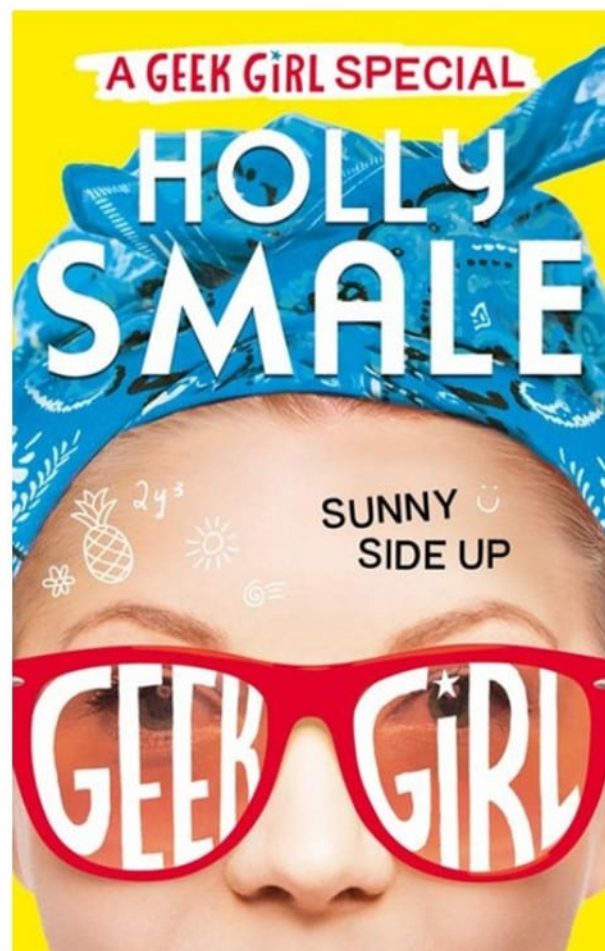

Harriet Manners knows many facts and she knows everything there is to know about Paris, the city of lights...except what to do when you're the hottest new model at Fashion Week.

- ◆ She knows that Paris has over 1,000 bakeries but only one Stop sign
- ◆ She knows haute couture originated there in 1858 and means 'high sewing'
- ◆ She knows that more people visit France every year than anywhere else

But being there isn't so great when you keep maybe spotting your ex boyfriend everywhere.

Or when the bright lights of the fashion elite are beaming straight at you.

Can Harriet find her je ne sais quoi or will it be sacre bleu on the runway?
