1. Compliance

1.1. This equality statement and objectives has been prepared with due regard to the following statutory provisions and guidance:-

- 1.1.1. Equality Act 2010;
- 1.1.2. Equality Act 2010 (Specific Duties) Regulations 2011; and,
- 1.1.3. Equality and Human Rights Commission, "Technical guidance for schools in England" 1 July 2010.

2. About this statement

2.1. The Bay Learning Trust ("the Trust") has developed this Equality Statement to help us to meet its Public Sector Equality Duty (PSED) under the Equality Act 2010.

2.2. The Equality Act's provisions cover all aspects of school life such as the treatment of:-

- 2.2.1. pupils and prospective pupils;
- 2.2.2. parents and carers;
- 2.2.3. employees; and,
- 2.2.4. local community.

2.3. The act covers nine protected characteristics, which cannot be used as a reason to treat people unfairly. The protected characteristics are:-

- 2.3.1. sex;
- 2.3.2. disability;
- 2.3.3. race;
- 2.3.4. age;
- 2.3.5. gender reassignment;
- 2.3.6. marriage and civil partnership;
- 2.3.7. pregnancy and maternity;
- 2.3.8. religion or belief; and,
- 2.3.9. sexual orientation.

2.4. The Equality Act makes it unlawful to treat someone differently, either through direct or indirect discrimination, harassment, and victimisation or by failing to make a reasonable adjustment for a disabled person.

3. Statement

3.1. The Trust is bound by the PSED to have due regard to the need to eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment, and victimisation, and equality of opportunity.

3.2. The specific duty on the Trust is to:-

3.2.1. publish information to demonstrate how the Trust is complying with the PSED; and,

3.2.2. to prepare and publish equality objectives.

[Note if there are fewer than 150 employees then the data will be about pupils only. If there are 150 or more employees then the data needs to include both pupils and employees].

4. Guiding Principles

In fulfilling the legal obligations cited above, the Trust is guided by the following Principles:-

4.1 Principle 1: All pupils are of equal value

The Trust sees all pupils and potential pupils, and their parents and carers, as of equal value:-

4.1.1 whether or not they are disabled;

4.1.2 whatever their ethnicity, culture, national origin or national status;

4.1.3 whatever their gender and gender identity;

4.1.4 whatever their religious or non-religious affiliation or faith background; and,

4.1.5 whatever their sexual identity.

4.2 Principle 2: The Trust recognises and respects difference

Treating people equally (Principle 1 above) does not necessarily involve treating them all the same. The Trust's policies, procedures and activities must not discriminate but must nevertheless take account of differences of life-experience, outlook and background, and in the kinds of barriers and disadvantages which people may face, in relation to:-

4.2.1 disability, so that reasonable adjustments are made;

4.2.2 ethnicity, so that different cultural backgrounds and experiences of prejudice are recognised;

4.2.3 gender, so that the different needs and experiences of girls and boys, and women and men, are recognised;

4.2.4 religion, belief or faith background; or,

4.2.5 sexual identity.

4.3 Principle 3: The Trust fosters positive attitudes and relationships, and a shared sense of cohesion and belonging

The Trust intends that its policies, procedures and activities should promote:-

4.3.1 positive attitudes towards disabled people, good relations between disabled and non-disabled people, and an absence of harassment of disabled people;

4.3.2 positive interaction, good relations and dialogue between groups and communities different from each other in terms of ethnicity, culture, religious affiliation, national origin or national status;

4.3.3 an absence of prejudice-related bullying and incidents;

4.3.4 mutual respect and good relations between boys and girls, and women and men; and,

4.3.5 an absence of sexual and homophobic harassment.

4.4 Principle 4: The Trust observes good equalities practice in staff recruitment, retention and development

The Trust ensures that policies and procedures should benefit all employees and potential employees, for example in recruitment and promotion, and in continuing professional development:-

4.4.1 whatever their age;

4.4.2 whether or not they are disabled;

4.4.3 whatever their ethnicity, culture, religious affiliation, national origin or national status;

4.4.4 whatever their gender and sexual identity; and,

4.4.5 with full respect for legal rights relating to pregnancy and maternity.

4.5 Principle 5: The Trust aims to reduce and remove inequalities and barriers that already exist

In addition to avoiding or minimising possible negative impacts of the Trust's policies, the Trust will take opportunities to maximise positive impacts by reducing and removing inequalities and barriers that may already exist between:-

4.5.1 disabled and non-disabled people;

4.5.2 people of different ethnic, cultural and religious backgrounds; and

4.5.3 girls and boys, women and men.

4.6 Principle 6: The Trust consults and involves widely

The Trust engages with a range of groups and individuals to ensure that those who are affected by a policy or activity are consulted and involved in the design of new policies, and in the review of existing ones. The Trust consults and involves:-

4.6.1 disabled people as well as non-disabled;

4.6.2 people from a range of ethnic, cultural and religious backgrounds;

4.6.3 both women and men, and both girls and boys; and

4.6.4 People of different sexual orientation.

4.7 Principle 7: The Trust bases its policies and practices on sound evidence

The Trust maintains and publishes quantitative and qualitative information which shows its compliance with the public sector equality duty (PSED) set out in clause 149 of the Equality Act 2010, and on the basis of which the Trust decides on specific and measurable objectives.

4.8 Principle 8: Measurable objectives

The Trust formulates and publishes specific and measurable objectives, based on the consultations the Trust has conducted (Principle 6) and the evidence the Trust has collected and published (Principle 7). The objectives which the Trust identify take into account national and local priorities and issues, as appropriate. The Trust will keep its equality objectives under review and report annually on progress towards achieving them.
