Cacophony /kə'kɒf(ə)ni/ What is the opposite word of cacophony? Cacophony, the opposite of euphony, is usually produced by combinations of words that require a staccato, explosive delivery. Inadvertent cacophony is a mark of a defective style.	"Believe it and act as if it were impossible to fail." Reflect on an occasion in your life where you may have doubted yourself. How were you able to turn that doubt into belief? Charles Kettering was an inventor. Why is failure an important process for inventors to go through? Research an inventor of your favourite gadget. How many prototypes did they have to make before they achieved success? Why do companies such as apple continue to provide new models and upgrades?

The song is based on an experience lead singer Nicholas Petricca had at a Los Angeles nightclub. His girlfriend invited him to dance, inspiring the title. Petricca envisioned the song as an anthem for letting go of frustration and having fun. The song was digitally released as the lead single from Talking Is Hard on September 10, 2014. Is dancing something that you feel comfortable doing? What examples are in main stream media where dance is used as an expression of affection?
